ONLY TWO MEN RESCUED ALIVE FROM MINE

SPIGHT IS CHOSEN AS TREASURER FUNDS IN SHRINER'S DRIVE

The Organization Plans Consume Time Of First Day

COUNTIES ALSO TO BE ORGANIZED

Response Of The People Has Been Good From First

W. R. Spight, prominent in these cities and section, has been chosen as treasurer for the Benevolent Hospital Drive, it was announced today in connection with plans being made for the organization of county wide forces, expected to place $30,000 available funds in the hands of the hospital heads for expansion purposes. Many others, prominent in the cities, were added to the campaign roster, completing the first days work of organization. Hearty response has been met with among the business classes by the organizers, it was stated.

Others lined up in the first day's completion of campaign foundation include: J. D. Wyker, W. W. Fussell, A. H. Hoff, H. B. Beard and W. M. Bailey and Mesdames: D. D. McGhee, S. W. Irwin, E. H. Allison, W. R. Smith, J. D. Wyker and Vera Austelle. These people will receive important posts in the coming campaign which will enable the hospital to greatly increase its present facility for serving the several North Alabama counties.

Plans are underway for the formation of complete county organizations in Morgan, Limestone, Lawrence and Cullman counties which the hospital serves. The county organizations will be backed principally by members of the Shrine.

J. B. Claff, directing the organization work, declared today that the co-operative spirit which he has found among the merchants and business men of the cities has been all that could be asked, finding the business interests thoroughly backing the plans for enlargement of the present hospital facility.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Full support of the Hougén bill, providing for a division of co-operative marketing in the department of agriculture, was pledged by Secretary Jardine in a speech today before the fourth national cooperative marketing conference.

A tendency to disagree among farm leaders was held by the secretary to be one of the chief factors in holding agriculture in backward position.

MUNSEY'S fortune will exceed all estimates, so runs the official announcement... The estimate was $40,000,000. Men wonder why Munsey gave practically all of it to the museum of art, to which he had never given more than $10 in any year of his life.

The answer is that Munsey, like many others very rich hardly knew what to do with his money, living or dead.

Perhaps Munsey wanted a respectable seating for the fortune which represented his life work. If so, he got it.

The late Benjamin Altman had a better idea. He used his mer-

RIGHTS-OF-WAY ARE CONSIDERED BY THE ROAD COMMISSION

Jones, Dunaway And Gurley Travel Over New Route

EXPECT TO REACH AGREEMENT SOON

Crews To Start On The Project Early Next Week

Merican County Road Commission. John W. Jones, A. M. Dunaway and James J. Gurley went into the details of land valuations along the proposed route of the Decatur to Moulton highway Wednesday, making a trip of some seven to eight miles for the purpose of discussing property rights with land owners in an effort to establish right-of-way claims.

Leaving these cities at one o'clock Wednesday, the commissioners went over the land sites carefully in an attempt to take care of the protests of the farmers of that section. It was stated on their return that practically all the people along the route are pleased with the outlook for a completely constructed highway between these cities and Moulton, but that some few, scattered along the line, are not pleased with the property valuations. Agreement will be reached if possible, it was indicated, but if necessary condemnation proceedings will be instituted to prevent any delay in the building of the highway. The latter, however, is not believed to be necessary.

Work on the new highway is expected to start during the coming week, it was stated, weather conditions having prevented any operations by the crews thus far. It is believed that the highway may be opened during the latter part of the summer, if weather conditions are favorable.

Commissioners are anxious to have all matters of land valuations straightened as quickly as possible. Minor controversies have arisen over the change in the routing of the present road, eliminating Mud Tavern mountain. The road, under the present plan will cut into the property of individuals at several points, but it is believed that agreement can be reached with the various owners in short order.

WORK WILL BEGIN SHORTLY ON NEW ALBANY ICE PLANT

Will Be Ready To Start Operation Before Season Opens

DECATUR PLANT TO BE IMPROVED

Jervis Jones Announces Intentions To Speed Up Construction

The Decatur Ice and Coal company will begin work immediately on its new ice factory, to be erected on a lot acquired several months ago in Albany between Second avenue and the Louisville and Nashville main line tracks.

Word to this effect was given out this morning by Jervis Jones, local manager of the company, who added that all proposals are in for the latest type of electrical machinery for the plant and contract for installation of the modern equipment will be let within a short time.

The factory will be ready for operation in ample time to care for consumers during the approaching summer season.

The new plant will be of 25 tons daily capacity and will be modern in every respect. The building will be of brick and concrete and will be so constructed that additional storage space may be added from time to time as needed by farmers and merchants.

Several months ago announcement was made of the intention of the company to erect the new plant before this spring and also of the plan of the company to convert its present Decatur plant from steam driven to electrical drive. Mr. Jones stated today that the necessary contracts have been let for the new equipment for the present Decatur plant and work will be started at an early date.

The Decatur Ice and Coal company for many years has served a large section of North Alabama, several times aiding materially in supplying ice for the Tri-Cities and other sections of the territory adjoining the Muscle Shoals development.

With the installation of the new and more modern equipment in the present plant, and the construction of the new plant in Albany, the company will be prepared to give consumers in this territory continued up-to-the-minute service, with ice delivery facilities and storage space.

Action Expected On Second Avenue In a Short While

Members of the Albany city council feel assured that within the next three months period that favorable action will be taken on the paving of Second avenue, it was stated today by a member of that body. It was indicated that between $13,000 and $15,000 will be spent for the paving of the avenue between the intersection of Grant street and to the end of the avenue at Lee street.

Whether the avenue is on the 1926 street paving program is one of the questions that has been propounded frequently to officials of the city. Citizens are pleased to learn that the council expects to return favorable reports within a short while.

TROLLEY LINES ARE BEING REMOVED BY TRACTION COMPANY

Last Visible Traces Of Operation Taken Off Of Streets

POLES TO FOLLOW WIRES TO DISCARD

Construction Of Lines Was Started In July, 1903

The last visible traces of the old North Alabama Traction company on local streets is being removed.

Under the direction of W. R. Speer, for many years manager of the company, and now manager of the Alabama Water company, the copper wires, which formed the trolley line for the company, are being taken down, cut into small pieces and hauled away for junk.

As soon as this task is finished, the guy wires and the poles themselves will be taken down also. Those of the poles which are in sufficiently good condition to still be valuable, will be "pulled" and salvaged. The others will be sawed off, even with the ground.

Mr. Speer stated today the company planned to remove all of the equipment in the two cities, above the ground. Final decision has not yet been reached, he said, in regard to the tracks, except that it had been decided not to take up the tracks over which paving has been laid, as the process would be too expensive.

The North Alabama Traction company here began work of constructing the electric line in July, 1903 and the first cars were operated over the lines on November 15, of the same year. The lines were constructed by A. C. Hartshorn, W. R. Hall and associates and the company was managed for several years by Mr. Hall, later being managed by W. A. Bibb and finally by Mr. Speer.

Interest Money Paid Out Today

The City of Albany today was forwarding checks totalling approximately $1300 to pay interest charges on the $50,000 bond issue sold by the city as its part of the cost of construction of the highway bridge across the Tennessee river at this point.

SURVIVOR CRAWLS OVER THE BODY OF HIS OWN FATHER

Victim Moved About In Blackness Of Mine For 23 Hours

DEATH LIST NOW OVER 80, IS BELIEF

Ninety Odd Men Still Are Unaccounted For Today

(Associated Press)

WILBURTON, Okla., Jan. 14.—Two men were rescued alive today from the lower levels of the Degman-McConnell mining company's mine here, where an explosion yesterday entombed 101 miners. A fire, which for a while halted the recovery of bodies, was extinguished shortly before noon and rescue crews again entered the mine.

Ninety-one men are dead or unaccounted for.

Those rescued today were Cecil McKinney, white, and Beryl Holland, negro. They said they believed their comrades, some 80-odd, were dead.

WILBURTON, Okla., Jan. 14.—Cecil McKinney, white, one of the 92 miners entombed by the explosion in Degman-McConnell mine No. 21, near here early yesterday was rescued alive near the mouth of the shaft this morning.

He is the first survivor to come out of the lower levels of the mine. Eighty-six bodies remain in the pit. Six bodies were recovered last night.

McKinney said he had crawled in the mine passage over bodies for 25 hours. He was in a state of nervous exhaustion when rescue workers brought him to the surface. His clothing was water soaked and his face covered with soot. A physician said he was not hurt and would recover in a short time.

"I crawled and crawled after the explosion in utter blackness," McKinney said.

Between clinched teeth as he was almost carried to the shower room, he said he crawled over the body of his own father.

New Equipment For Laboratory

New equipment for the Tennessee Valley laboratory, including much equipment for handling milk examinations, has been received by the local unit and will be put into use immediately.

The laboratory officials are looking forward to the expansion of the unit, when additional room is provided under the terms of a resolution passed by the Albany city council several days ago and forming the basis of an agreement with B. L. Malone, owner of the building housing the laboratory.

Many are joining the Daily reading circle to begin; "Joanna", new serial, on next Saturday

Many readers are joining The Daily circle in anticipation of the opening date, Saturday, of the new Daily serial, "Joanna." The story is attracting all classes of readers, appealing to everyone as it is advertised as a better story than "Bobbed Hair," the serial which appeared in The Daily recently.

"Joanna" bids fair to lead all other stories published locally, being a story of a modern girl, whom you know and see in every-day life. Joanna, the heroine of our delightful little story, tells of the events of her own life, in her own pleasing way and in her own style of wording. There are no frills to this modern girl, she is that class of independent, not now unusual in femininity. She has her own life to lead, her own problems to unravel which is done in a pleasing bit of romantic fiction from the pen of H. L. Gates.

The Daily is pleased in announcing this story to begin on next Saturday, feeling that quite a bit of interest is being added to the columns of the paper. It is the desire of the newspaper at all times to give to the reader every feature that will appeal. Carrying newspaper serials, the dispatches of the Associated Press, all the local news, news from every section of North Alabama counties, a shop-window for the housewife, and backed with a constructive policy looking toward the future development of these cities and the Tennessee Valley, The Daily believes that it can make an appeal to all prospective readers in the section.

RATES TO DECATUR GIVEN TRI-CITIES

Alabama Cities Obtain Revision Of Tariff Schedule

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Rates on petroleum products to points in Alabama, Florence, Sheffield, Tusculum, and Russellville, were held unjustified today by the interstate commerce commission, as compared with similar rates to Corinth, Miss., and Decatur, Ala.

The railroads were ordered to make changes by March 25 correcting the injustice.

As a basis for revising the schedule, the commission said that the roads must fix rates to the points named, which are identical with existing rates to Decatur, when petroleum is shipped from any of the principal mid-continental producing fields.

At the same time rates from Memphis, Tenn., to Florence, Sheffield and Tusculum are ordered fixed at not more than eight cents above the rates to Corinth, while from Memphis also rates to the three towns named were fixed on a basis of 5.5 cents less than those to Decatur; Russellville from Memphis the new rates must be two cents less than the Decatur rate and 11.5 cents more than the Corinth rate.

NEW LIGHT SHED UPON PERNICIOUS ANEMIA

Cause May Be Some Infection Which Has Damaged the Blood Forming Organs, Chief of Which Is the Bone Marrow.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. COPELAND.

A FEW days ago I had occasion to visit a hospital to call on a sick friend. As I passed down the corridor, somebody called to me through an open door. I found the voice to be that of another friend whom I have not seen for several years.

This lady looked so pretty with her beautiful hair, sparkling eyes and fair skin, that I immediately said: "What in the world are you doing in a hospital? You look too charming and healthy to be in a sick bed!"

It turned out she had pernicious anemia. Of course it must be admitted this is a serious ailment. The victim may look well but the disease cannot be regarded lightly.

Various forms of treatment have been recommended. The friend I have just mentioned was using radium.

A short time ago I saw the report of a paper read before the Pittsburgh Allegheny County Medical Society by Dr. Frederick M. Allen. Whenever my old friend Dr. Allen says something I listen. He is an able scientist, with a long record of achievement.

This paper reported hopeful results in the treatment of pernicious anemia. I am anxious to get a complete copy of what was said because the press dispatch is so encouraging.

Dr. Allen very properly classifies pernicious anemia with those diseases which interfere with or pervert the assimilation of food. On this account he places the ailment in the group with kidney diseases and diabetes.

According to Dr. Allen's theory, the cause of pernicious anemia "is conceived to be some infection which has damaged the blood-forming organs, chief of which is the bone marrow, and upset the normal equilibrium between blood formation and blood destruction."

This statement may seem rather technical, but it can be explained this way: The body is all the time being torn down, as the gasoline in the automobile is.

The body must be built constantly, just as the supply of gasoline must be renewed. New blood, which supplies the body fuel, must be formed just as fast as it is exhausted by use.

In pernicious anemia, something interferes with this balance between blood formation and blood destruction. Dr. Allen thinks the chief organism causing the trouble is the blood-destroying pus-germ. He would seek out and remove every pus centre, like bad teeth or an infected gall-bladder.

Then he recommends a diet to protect the blood corpuscles. To make them live and function as they should he regulates the mineral salts in the diet.

Another interesting feature of the treatment is the doing away with blood transfusions and powerful drugs, except in emergencies. The whole theory is interesting and hopeful. I trust the treatment may do the good it promises.

12 Years Ago TODAY

From the Daily of January 14, 1914.

The residence of Mrs. Virginia Graham, one of the local landmarks, is being razed, to make way for an apartment building.

Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway, is expected to pass through here January 16. E. M. Odum has purchased the Variety store.

The Morgan County National bank directors voted last night to enlarge the bank's building.

A large crowd witnessed the destruction of large quantities of liquor at the courthouse this afternoon. The booze was seized in recent raids.

Pay your poll tax now while the opportunity exists. Next summer, when you desire to vote, you will be glad.

A real optimist is a fellow who believes the democrats can win their tax reduction fight in congress.

Another million dollar hotel goes up in Birmingham. Alabama is getting ahead.

The trolley lines of the long since abandoned street car lines now are being taken down. Thus passeth the old order.

More than 80 new residences in Albany-Decatur during one year is a splendid record and one reflecting great credit upon the Twin Cities.

The movie man wants pictures of construction works in the Twin Cities. Another indication North Alabama is attracting attention.

"The way is open for action on Shoals," the Age-Herald advises in a headline. The Daily is inclined to believe the way has been open all of the time, but the inclination has been absent.

Red Grange denies he is engaged. Red seems to take the attitude he likes college football and doesn't mind the professional game, but he shies at any other kind of battle.

If the political campaign in Alabama continues to warm up during the summer, Red Grange might be able to make more money delivering ice in his state than playing professional football.

The local interference, whatever it is, continues to arouse the ire of Albany-Decatur radio fans. Write to Congressman Almon or to the United States department of commerce and make your kick. They will get action.

Occasionally some of the local banks use the paper cutting machine in The Daily office to whack up new sheets of currency. So far the visitors haven't dropped a thing, but while there's life there's hope.

Admitting that Florida's claim of more than 2,000 people coming into the state every day is true, can Florida's record of building industries come anywhere near Alabama's? We are getting new payrolls in this state.

More than 3,000 adults in Alabama were taught to read and write last year. Gradually Alabama is making progress in her fight to eradicate illiteracy, and the adult schools, together with the compulsory attendance laws for children are two chief factors in the campaign.

BANK REPORTS SHOW PROGRESS BEING MADE IN THE TWIN CITIES

The reports made to stockholders of the Central, Morgan County and City National banks, at the annual meetings this week, give concrete evidence of the growth of this section. The reports to be made later on this month by the officials of the Tennessee Valley bank, at their annual gathering, will provide further evidence.

The growths of the banks in any section give pretty clear-cut proof of the expansion of that section. That the financial institutions of the Twin Cities are growing rapidly is convincing proof that the cities themselves are enjoying expansion also.

The four institutions in Albany and Decatur are ably managed banks, are financial institutions worthy of any community, and the people of these cities are proud of them.

THE DANGER OF RABIES IS NOT CONFINED TO THE SUMMER MONTHS

On several occasions the Morgan county health unit, or the Tennessee Valley laboratory, has found it necessary to extend warnings to the public that the general idea of the public that rabies is a summer-time disease is a misconception.

The result of the examination of the heads of two dogs, one sent here from Hartselle and the other from Moulton, showing the canines suffered from the disease bears out the contention of the health authorities, and should act as warning to all persons to be on the watch for outbreaks of the disease at any time, spring, summer, winter or fall. Certainly, if rabies had been confined to summer, there could not have been any evidence of the disease in the heads of the two dogs just examined, for weather conditions in the past few weeks have resembled anything but summer.

OFFICIALS OF WOODMEN OF WORLD WILL BE VISITORS HERE TONIGHT

This evening the Twin Cities have the pleasure of entertaining several well known officials of the Woodmen of the World, and on behalf of the citizenship at large, The Daily bids them welcome.

The Daily is informed that the work of the organization in this section has become so important to the order that one representative will remove here to make his home. The Twin Cities are duly appreciative of this honor and hope that the Woodmen, as well as other fraternal organizations continue to find Albany and Decatur good cities in which to maintain headquarters.

AY YOUR POLL TAX BEFORE THE FIRST DAY OF FEBRUARY

The lack of real interest taken by the people of Morgan county in registration is disappointing and it is regrettable that more people have not paid their poll tax. An opportunity is open, however, to remedy both conditions. The registration board will visit the remainder of the precincts in the county and will sit for ten days at the courthouse here, while payments of poll taxes may be made to February 1.

The Daily sincerely urges every citizen of Morgan county to register, when necessary, and to pay the poll tax before too late. The matter of voting not only is a privilege, it is a duty and no American citizen should not shirk his responsibility.

Too many cases of minority control have been permitted already and there is little excuse for their continuation. Every person who is of age, and who is of sufficient intelligence to vote, should see to it that he or she is equipped with the necessary qualifications to vote and does vote.

In Alabama this fall, the voters will choose numerous officials. Would it not be a glorious thing if it could be said of Morgan county, after that election, that a majority of the adult population of this county participated in the election? That is what democracy was created for and there is no reason why a majority of people should not vote.

BALANCED FARMING PROGRAM ADOPTED BY THE FARMERS OF MORGAN COUNTY

Viewed from many angles the conference held in Hartselle Tuesday, at which time a balanced farming program was adopted for Morgan county, was one of the most important conferences of its kind ever held in this county. The problem of the farmer not only is his own, but his failure or success vitally affects almost every other line of endeavor and certainly it should be of paramount interest to every business man in Morgan county that the farmers of this county are successful.

Planters who gathered in Hartselle Tuesday included many of the agricultural leaders of this section. When they discuss farm problems, they are thoroughly familiar with their subject, and their influence will go far toward placing in effect the program as outlined at the meeting.

It is significant that Mr. Ford, the county farm agent, announces there will be no particular effort to curtail the cotton crop, but every farmer will be urged to grow sufficient secondary crops to furnish a steady cash revenue to augment the proceeds of the sales of the staple.

It is high time that Morgan county utilized all of her opportunities to make money. Morgan county farmers, naturally, are anxious to create sufficient wealth of their own to make their families comfortable and the adoption of the balanced farming program seems to be a splendid method of accomplishing that much sought result.

The Morgan county farm bureau and County Agent Ford already have done much to improve agricultural conditions in Morgan county, but none of their previous efforts has been more impressive than the one just now launched. Citizens who have the best interest of the county at heart will applaud their zeal.

In connection with the agricultural outlook for the year, the Anniston Star quotes interesting figures regarding the government's view of the cotton situation at home and in other lands, which are worthy of careful study.

Some interesting and illuminating figures on the American cotton situation as affected by the international cotton textile situation are given by the United States Department of Commerce in a bulletin just issued.

The stock-taking season again has arrived. So far as the international aspects of cotton textile manufacturing and merchandising are involved, the following are some of the outstanding developments during the year just ended, according to reports reaching the Textile Division, Department of Commerce.

The cotton crop in the United States will exceed 15,500,000 bales according to official estimates—about 2,000,000 greater than in the previous year.

American exports of raw cotton for the first 11 months of 1925 were approximately 1,800,000 bales in excess of those in the corresponding period of 1924.

World mill takings of American cotton for the first 11 months of 1925 were about 4,000,000 bales more than during the same period of the preceding year.

American mills consumed almost 860,000 bales more cotton in the first 11 months of 1925 than in the like period of 1924.

American cotton prices were lower and steadier. In 1924 cotton ranged from 35 to 18 cents and averaged about 23 1-2 cents a pound.

On the whole, cotton mills in the United States were more active, the spinning branch having operated at about 92 per cent of capacity during the first 11 months of 1925 compared with 77 per cent for the corresponding period of the previous year. While no production figures are available, it may reasonably be assumed that the mills are in a much more favorable position than in 1924.

Deliveries of raw silk to American mills amounted to 459,000 bales for the period, January to November, 1925, or approximately 125,000 more than those for the corresponding months of the preceding year. On the average, silk mills in the United States appeared to be running approximately 20 per cent better than in 1924.

During the first 11 months of 1925 American exports of cotton piece goods reached nearly half a billion yards, or approximately 62,000,000 yards in excess of shipments during the like period of 1924.

Imports of unbleached cloths were 30 per cent less and colored cloths of various descriptions 50 per cent less than in 1924.

Considering the increase in the exports and the decrease in the imports of cotton goods, the United States shows a net gain of 120,000,000 square yards.

ed him, he was not interested in salary, said "Just give me the right to buy your stock at today's price after I have increased its value."

POOR innocent Charles M. Schwab (It's a wonder he ever made a living, being so innocent) said "all right," and instantly the thing was done, and Mr. Moskovics got richer, faster than Schwab could count.

THIS is to comfort Schwab with knowledge that at least he got a good salesman, when he got Moskovics, don't go anywhere near him, if you don't want to buy a car. This winter a man who needed a fifth car as little as any cat needs a fifth leg, came within the Moskovics range, murmured perfunctorily a polite commonplace about meaning to get one of those cars. Instantly a piece of blue paper, with dotted lines on it, flashed in the air it was signed, and the last thing that fascinated buyer bird heard the Moskovics serpent say was "I can't deliver it until March 15th."

Don't miss the great automobile show, when in New York. But as you enter ask, "where is Moskovics?" and keep going the other way.

MRS. BESANT, theosophist leader, is not able to fix exactly the arrival of her "Messiah's" second coming. She can only tell you that he is sitting, meditating, of course meditating is to theosophists what golf is to us, "Somewhere in the Himalayan mountains."

Krishnamurti, the new world ruler, will not convert us from our various religions, but establish what will be a 'spiritual league of nations binding all the present religions together."

IF IT IS permitted to offer a suggestion to the august Krishnamurti, ours would be to wait until this prosperity boom is over. This country does not need a league of religion or a league of nations either, it wants to be allowed to manage itself, religiously, nationally and financially. We are doing well. Let us alone, please.

IN 1921 this country passed a law taxing dealings in "Grain futures" which, in plain English means taxing grain gambling. The supreme court conceals the tax as unconstitutional a law to protect children from child labor exploitation.

Supreme Court justices know the law, and the constitution, of course. Perhaps the writers of the constitution did not quite know what they were doing.

MUSSOLINI thinks our United States luxury represents waste of energy, and our democracy is not quite real. "Italy, poor, cannot afford such waste and must organize her people, like a militia, always under strict discipline."

MUSSOLINI knows, apparently, what Italy needs. But he does not understand all about America. Sometimes what seems to be luxury is really conservation of energy. We have excellent beds, they mean better sleep, stronger men and women, longer life.

WE HAVE 22,000,000 automobiles, enough to carry our 115,000,000 people all at once. They mean conservation of time, greater efficiency. And our most successful men in industry and wealth are least affected by luxury. Look at Henry Ford, skating and dancing. Could tire Mussolini.

Look at John D. Rockefeller, sipping his temperate milk and seltzer, playing a good game of golf at 86.

A horse sleeping on soft straw, well fed, will win more races than he would sleeping on bare boards, and short of oats. Take care of your machinery and it will take care of you.

OUR government and people criticize Mexico's land laws, Mexico has the right that we have, to make any law she pleases, that is not confiscatory. To what extent should we allow Mexico to regulate our law-making? Mexico will not attempt to steal property honestly acquired by Americans.

This nation should learn to deal with Mexico as politely as it would deal with Canada. That would help.

A building permit has been taken out at Anniston for the construction of a plant for the H. & H. Valve company recently located in the Model City. The Permit listed construction costs of the plant at $75,000.

MRS. LOWE ENTERTAINS

Beautiful in its appointments was the bridge luncheon given by Mrs. W. T. Lowe on Wednesday to honor Mrs. Mahlon Long of Pulaski, Tenn., the house guest of Mrs. Will Wyker. Mrs. Lowe's home on Ferry street was very attractive, the tables being especially pretty with snowy white linen, covers lighted with pink candles in silver holders that were shaded with pink and silver. The handles of the pink rosebud baskets filled with nuts, were tied with silver tulle and concealed in these were the names of the guests: Mrs. Long, Mrs. Wyker, Mrs. H. H. May, Mrs. S. W. Irwin, Mrs. W. M. Voorhies, Mrs. Russell Green, Mrs. Dick Harris and Mrs. Tennis Tidwell. Pink roses and ferns were used for decorations in the rest of the house.

A three course luncheon was served at one o'clock. A prize was given at each table, one of these being received by Mrs. Wyker, and one by Mrs. Green. A gift was presented to the honoree as a souvenir of the affair.

World Almanac Is Printed For 1926

The World Almanac for 1926 was published with the New Year. For forty years this standard ready reference annual has been indispensable and never more welcomed than today. It deserves a place on every desk—in the office, in the factory, in the school and college, on the farm and in the home. Where else can one find so readily the up-to-date answers to all the questions of the day?

It puts a million facts within arms reach. In its 900 pages of small but clear type are compressed the history of the United States and of the whole world. The history made in 1925 is there. The facts and statistics are from authoritative sources, well digested, well arranged.

How has the Dawes plan worked? Gilbert's report is there. The Locarno Treaties? In full. The new Tax Bill before congress. All the essential points and figures. Exempt bonds? It tells how the States and cities spent the money they got from them. What have we really for an air force? Read the report of the Morrow committee. How is the enforcement of the prohibition law getting on? That also is told. And all this information is readily accessible—consult the twenty-one pages of the index. When did so-and-so happen? If in 1925, the diary of events begins on page 91 and runs to Page 118, with six pages of deaths, four of great benefactions and seven of scientific progress following; records of all sports as usual.

The World Almanac has always been an invaluable handbook of American politics. Each one has the latest election returns from all the states, and this year it carried as well a political history giving every presidential campaign.

It is a mine of information for every man.

The World almanac is published by the New York World.

PALE, NERVOUS

West Virginia Lady Says That She Was in a Serious Condition, But Is Stronger After Taking Cardui.

Huntington, W. Va.—"I was in a very weak and run-down condition—in fact, was in a serious condition," says Mrs. Fannie C. Bloss, of 1964 Madison Avenue, this city.

"In my left side the pain was very severe. It would start in my back and sides. Part of the time I was in bed and when up I didn't feel like doing anything or going anywhere.

"Life wasn't any pleasure. I was very pale. I was nervous and thin, and so tired all the time.

"My druggist told me that Cardui was a good tonic for women and I bought a couple of bottles. I took two bottles, then I noticed an improvement. I kept on and found it was helping me. I have taken nine bottles. I'm stronger now than I have been in a long time."

Cardui is made from mild-acting medicinal herbs with a gentle, tonic, strengthening effect upon certain female organs and upon the system in general.

Helpful Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl of sixteen. I very seldom have company, because my mother objects.

What shall I do?

WORRIED FLAPPER.
Your mother may think you are still too young to have young men callers. It would be perfectly suitable for you to invite several friends to the house, girls and boys. I am sure that your mother would approve of that. Why not talk to her about it and tell her that you would like to ask a few school friends to come in some evening?

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl twenty years old, and have been going with a young man twenty-four years old. Since last Fall we have been engaged and were to be married this Fall. About two months ago, we had a scrap. Is it all right for me to make up with him?

SWEETHEART:

If you have been in the wrong, by all means write your fiancé and tell him that you are sorry. However, if he was the offender, you must wait until he signifies that he wishes to return to his former status with you, and apologize.

Downtown Birmingham Is Anxious Over Break In Morris Avenue Crust

(Associated Press)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 14—Downtown Birmingham awaited anxiously today developments in official opinion on the cities latest cave-in at Morris Avenue and 22nd street.

The cavern endangered two business buildings and the 22nd street viaduct, a large wood and concrete structure spanning railroad tracks.

A heavy water truck last night broke the crust of the earth and a hole several feet in diameter appeared in Morris avenue. The cavern appeared to widen beneath the surface, a preliminary survey showed. City engineers were making an inquiry to ascertain the extent of the slip.

Such breaks in the earth's surface have occurred recently in Birmingham's southside and in north Birmingham. In this latter section a huge cave, extending for a distance of several city blocks, was recently surveyed by Dr. George I. Adams, assistant state geologist. He said the caverns were the result of natural erosion, due to limestone formation. It was this opinion that the surface of the earth generally was solid and that there was no danger of serious slip.

A party of Boy Scouts last week reported to H. G. Mills, scout master, the discovery of a new cave in east Birmingham, which they said extended underground for at least three miles. Mr. Mills, who is also assistant secretary of the Alabama mining institute said today he expected to make a scientific exploration of the last discovered cave next week.

For Head Colds

THERE are many ways to treat a cold in the head, but only one DIRECT way, and that is with vapors that can be inhaled.

The easiest and most satisfying way to get these vapors is to snuff a little Vicks VapoRub well up the nose, or melt a little in a spoon or tin cup and inhale.

The medicated vapors reach immediately into every corner of the air passages, soothing and healing with every breath.

For other forms of cold troubles just rub Vicks over the throat and chest at bedtime. It is then the body heat which releases these vapors.

USE ULTRA-VIOLET RAY TO GET MORE AND BETTER EGGS

MADISON, Wis.—The ultra-violet ray, already employed profitably by medical men to heal human ills, is being used at the University of Wisconsin to produce "more and better" eggs and chickens.

Nearly three times as many eggs can be produced by action of the ray, the departments of agricultural chemistry and poultry have found.

Heavier shells in irradiated pens also increased marketability of eggs and greater hatchability resulted. The ultra-violet light was found to cure fowls suffering from rickets.

Twelve Steps To Independence As Seen at the Close of Farm Meeting

By J. C. Ford

1. Terracing and drainage. All hill or rolling land should be terraced with broad based, variable grade terraces as directed in farmers' bulletin 1886.

Much low land should be drained. Worthless fields are thus made the most valuable on the farm.

2. Soil building crops. Fertilizer will grow crops, but it will not build land.

Beans or peas should be drilled between corn rows, early in the season on every acre of corn, the seed picked and the vines plowed under.

Lespedeza should follow all small grains and occupy all land not otherwise in use. Each farmer should sow a few acres to vetch each season.

3. Food and feed first.

A good garden, milk and butter, home raised meat, a good home orchard, with fresh eggs every day promotes health, cuts expenses and makes life worth living. Producing feed to run the farm balances the program and insures against shortage of money crops or low prices.

4. Cotton the main money crop. Fewer acres to cotton, more cotton per acre.

Hold the acreage to a balanced program, use pure seed of a good variety, fertilize according to the "Auburn Method." As a second best use 100 to 600 pounds per acre of a factory mixed fertilizer high in nitrogen.

5. Corn. Use pure seed. Plant plenty.

Space rows six feet, with a row of peas and beans between the corn. Use 100 per cent acid phosphate for the legumes and 100 per cent nitrate of soda when the corn is knee high.

6. Small grains. Produce all that can be used to advantage on the farm. Follow with lespeze.

7. Hay. Plan to produce two tons for each horse, mule or cow on the farm. Lespeze, peas and beans are usually the best hay crops.

8. Pastures. One to two acres for each cow, horse or mule. The central of Georgia, mixture of lespeze 10 per cent, carpet grass 3 per cent, and Dallas grass 5 per cent has proven a winner where ever tried, and should be tested all over Morgan County.

9. Secondary Money Crops. In addition to cotton each farm should have one or more cash crops. Some good ones are:

Hay. Cream—4 to 6 good cows fed on a balanced ration.

Eggs—50 or more pure bred hens, well housed, closely culled, fed a balanced ration.

Berries, fruits, vegetables, melons, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, surplus of field crops, etc.

10. Cash basis. "Out of debt is out of danger."

If you must incur debts, budget your year's business, borrow money and pay cash. Then you escape paying the Dead Beat's bills.

11. Co-operation. "United we stand, divided we fall." Co-operate with your fellow farmers in every way that co-operation is feasible.

12. Dependable information. Keep in close touch with the Alabama Extension service through your county agent. Read good farm journals that are suited to your type of farming.

GEORGES HERE AS AN ADVANCE MAN

He's Billposting For An Unknown Spic Fighter

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Georges Carpentier, "orchid man" of France, arrived today on another pugilistic mission to the United States, but this time it is not entirely on his own account.

"Fight?" he repeated. "Most assuredly, if the opportunity is good, but you should see this Paolino of Spain if you wish to see a fighter."

Carpentier thus epitomized the main purpose of his visit. Now 32, he celebrated his birthday yesterday—and admittedly past his fistic prime, the "gorgeous one" is not particularly anxious for a strenuous program on his own account, though he considers himself in good trim and "would like, Monsieur, a shot at Paul Berlenbach or 'Young' Stribling."

But Paolino! That is another matter and Georges, with an expressive gesture, mildly asserted the Spaniard is the "greatest heavyweight in the game today," ready now to take on either Gene Tunney or Harry Wills and anxious to prove his right for a match with Jack Dempsey.

Carpentier is here chiefly as advance man for Paolino, who is due in New York in February with his manager, Francois Descamps and other boxers in the Descamps stable.

Paolino, according to Carpentier, has been the sensation of European heavyweight ranks and packs a "terrific left." Georges became convinced of the power of Paolino's punches from first hand experience in a gymnasium workout in Paris.

Carpentier will consider offers from Tex Rickard, as well as promoters in Newark, N. J., and California for bouts during his stay here. Rickard has proposed Jack Delaney, Bridgeport, Conn., light-heavyweight, as an opponent, but Georges confesses himself a bit shy of Delaney's right. He would prefer Berlenbach or Stribling. After two weeks here, he will visit California, not with any bouts in view, but willing to listen to any reasonable offer to fight in the ring or before the movie camera.

"Dempsey? Ah! He is still a great champion. He would crucify Harry Wills, I think, but," added Georges, reverting to his favorite topic, "he must fear our Paolino."

Senator Demands Vote On Farm Act

At a meeting of the committee today, Senator Carroway declared he would force a vote of the senate at this session on the bill which he declared had been put off for five years.

Vote Canvassed By The Council

The Albany city council met in special session last night and canvassed the vote cast in Tuesday's special election. The official canvass did not change the unofficial totals, already announced and showing 280 votes cast for a change to commission form of government and 519 votes cast against the change.

Y. M. C. A. Loses To Saints 19-11 In a Thrilling Battle; Johnson Is Star

The initial tilt of the year in local cage circles ended disastrously for the Y quint against St. Bernard College at Cullman Wednesday night. The Saints grabbing a 19-11 decision. Johnson, diminutive acquisition of the Y from Albany high hosts of last year, was the local sensation in goal shooting antics, Pesky shooting ten of the 11 points made by the local team. Robertson punched a free toss for the last point. Every man on the squad who made the trip was thrown into the breach before the final whistle.

Opening with a highly defensive game both teams went at a rapid clip to a 4-3 lead for the Saints at the end of the first period. At the half, however, the Y cagers had forged into a single basket lead, carrying the bulk of a 11-9 count. Johnson went wild in the second period, dropping pointers through the loops from long and difficult angles.

The third period began to show on the illy conditioned local five, playing their first game of the year and playing a superb defense the Saints blanked their opponents, ranging over the floor to a comfortable six point lead for themselves. The last quarter proved another lesson in defensive tactics, the Saints registering a single basket and the local lads unable to chalk.

The local team was warm in its praise of the Saints combination upon their return here, declaring that the Cellman five plays a fine game both offensively and defensively. The Saints will return here later to play the Y on the Albany high floor.

Manager Arvidson declared today that the men were pleased with the outlook for a successful season and were not displeased with the showing made against the Saints.

Following is the line up for the 'Y'. Johnson and Robertson, forwards; Tapscott, center; Ellison and Chunn, guards. Substitutions: Morrow for Robertson, Teague for Chunn, Howell for Teague, Robertson for Morrow, Chunn for Howell. The next game is yet in doubt, probably being arranged with the Dallas Y at Huntsville or with the Falkville A. C. at Falkville.

KIWANIS TO MEET

Members of the Kiwanis club of Albany-Decatur will gather at 6:30 tonight. Guests of the club this evening will include the cast of "Sunshine" musical comedy production staged recently.

Western colleges and universities for specialized work in their research laboratories.

The steel manufacturer, the mining engineer, the meat packer and the chewing gum manufacturer are appropriating funds for the expenses of students wanting to do specialized work and for the maintenance of special departments, equipment and instructors. Commercial and professional organizations are joining a widening variety of industries in providing for study in their own or general fields.

In most cases, the scholarships and fellowships are given to students who will make special study in the field in which the donor is directly interested. An asphalt company contributes to study of asphalt materials, a chemical manufacturer offers financial aid for study in commercial chemistry and the mining concern lends a helping hand to the student interested in ceramics. One big producer of railroad equipment maintains twenty scholarships for scientific training in agriculture and animal husbandry. The fellowships and scholarships vary in value from $800 to $150.

At least $21,762 is providing for scholarships and fellowships at the University of Wisconsin, a well known poster advertising company's contributing the largest individual sum, $6,000 which maintains two fellowships open to graduate students only. More than $25,000 is available to students at the University of Minnesota, in research scholarships. Near ly every department of the university has received one or more substantial gifts.

A number of scholarships in social science and political economy are open to students at the University of Chicago. For the study of meat packing and handling processes, an annual gift of $2,500, for three years, has been made. Approximately thirty five scholarships, for study in a wide variety of subjects are maintained at the University of Illinois. The income from a fund of $10,000 is available to a fellow in chemistry or chemical engineering.

Of unusual interest among the Northwestern University scholarships are a number for young men interested in fire insurance and allied lines of business. Provided by certain of the large fire insurance companies, they cover full tuition for the university's two year course in fire insurance. Merchandising and advertising are concerned in several scholarships open to both men and women.

Scholarships at Ohio State University average $750. Among them is a scholarship of $150 a year contributed by a Philadelphia textile company and to go only to a disabled soldier.

Five of the twenty agricultural scholarships are allotted to agricultural colleges where the students do the most efficient work in the five lines of stock-judging; a sixth goes to the college scoring highest in the five combined classes and the other fourteen are distributed on the basis of total cash prizes won by the institutions on entries in the open live stock classes. They are available in thirteen Middle West institutions.
